

Reef Tracer

Precision Tracking, Anywhere In The World

Discrete Integration

Hidden integration into Camera and Lens Caps is user-friendly and hassle-free.

Reliable Monitoring

Uses proven technologies to provide equipment tracking and control through a well-known easy to use app.

Global Precision

Tracking that is accurate to within meters.

Cost Effective

Our simple-to-use solution is built to last.

Available for PL, LPL, and E Mount Cameras and Lenses. For other mounts, please contact us.

Our trackers give you the extra security you need when your expensive equipment is on the move. Whether you are looking to monitor your cameras and lenses for shipping or inventory control, our Reef Tracers can help you do the job effortlessly.

- Discrete
- Efficient
- Simple
- Cost Effective
- Long Battery Life
- Robust Design

The Reef Tracer concept was born out of hardship. Using a large international shipping company, our client shipped us four Mini LF cameras, a normal practice. The cases all left London complete, as was to be expected. When they arrived at our facilities, the cases were completely empty - no cameras, no accessories, nothing. The international shipping company was unable to help us. The police were unable to help us. We realized that even a tracker in the case would not have helped us since all the empty cases actually arrived as well.

It was then that we knew we needed to find a better solution. By discretely placing our gear locators in the camera body cap or in the rear lens cap, it is much more likely that the locator stays with the item, which dramatically improves your chances of getting them back.

Don't take chances with your high-value cameras and lenses. A small investment today can improve your gear turnaround, prevent lost income potential, and give you a much better understanding of exactly where your gear is.

For more information get in touch.

Second Reef GmbH
Hinterm Zwinger 14
92637 Weiden, Germany
www.second-reef.com

...your little peace of mind